SCHWAB, WANTED AS A WITNESS, CAN'T BE FOUND

All Efforts to Subpens the Former Steel Trust President to Testify About the Bethlehem Plant Deal Have Been Unavailing.

MORGAN AND PERKINS MAY ALSO BE CALLED TO COURT

Dresser's Expose in Shipbuilding Investigation Hardest Blow Wall Street Has Received in Years—Gates Supports Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Charles M. Schwab is wanted as a witness in the Shipbuilding Trust investigation, but all efforts to subpens him have proved futile.

To put Schwab on the witness stand is the chief object of the first mortgage bondholders, who want the temporary receiver permanent because of alleged fraud.

At expert process servers in the office after him, up town and down, day and night, for several days, have haunted his office, his apartment and the offices he is known to frequent.

It was learned today that, if Mr. Schwab continues his subpens-dodging, drastic steps will be taken to him. An application will be made to the United States Court for an attachment against him.

Elemental with this document, off the United States court will have over to invade his home or his office and to smash down doors if such is necessary to get him.

George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co. will also be subpens as a witness what he knows about the ship deal. Mr. Perkins represented & Co. in the sale of the Bethlehem Co., which Mr. Schwab said he but which J. P. Morgan & Co. formal statement, says was owned by the United States Steel Corporation, of which Morgan & Co. were users.

Did Not Steel Trust Take Bethlehem?

Now the United States steel syndicate is to buy the Bethlehem company, not it, to the steel company, but the shipbuilding company, is one of secrets not yet disclosed.

It is said that the syndicate bought Bethlehem company, intending to sell it to the United States Steel Corporation, but, finding that the company about all the burdens it could carry, sold it elsewhere and, through Schwab, finally disposed of it to the shipping company.

First mortgage bondholders are considering the advisability of having J. P. Morgan subpoenaed to tell all now about the sale of the Bethlehem plant.

According to Mr. Dresser's testimony, he had tentatively agreed to buy the steel company, Mr. Schwab said he had procured any further until he had been induced by cable with J. P. Morgan, was then in Europe.

Communications were the others would like to find out, according to a statement of Le Roy in his testimony, he completely lied in Wall street, causing native men no little alarm.

Secret pool agreement with Harris & Co., by which the $5,000,000 of Ship Building stock, exacted by J. P. Morgan's firm and $6,000,000 of stock exacted by Mr. were to be unloaded upon the entry of any of the other stock of company could be sold, was an unwarranted piece of ing.

Street's Severe in Many Years.

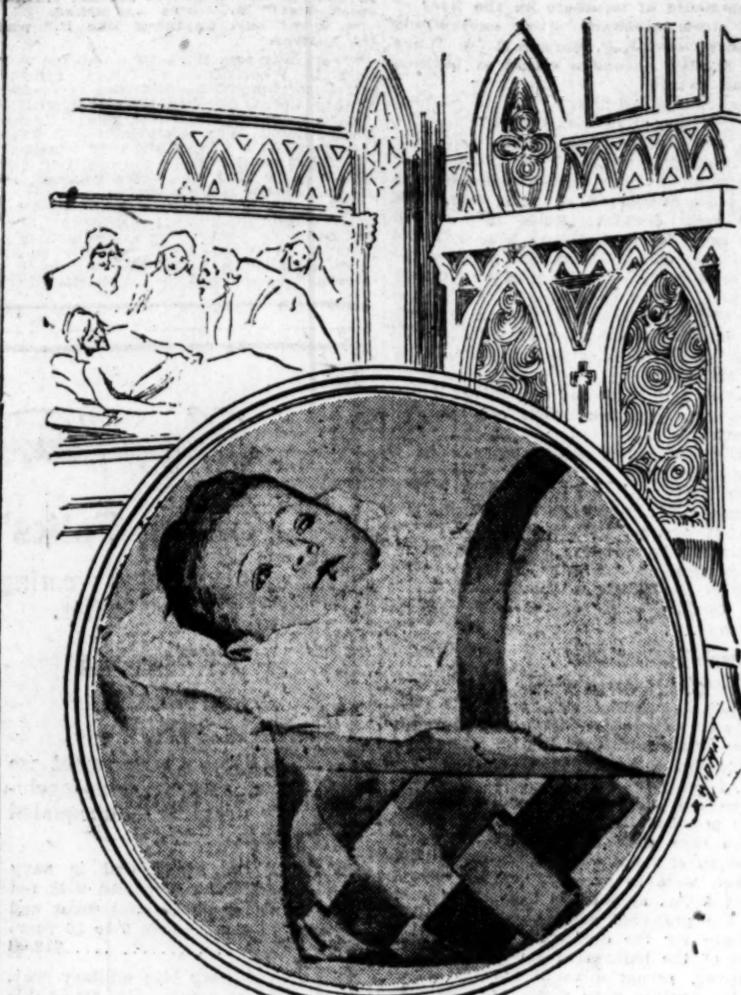

losure was admitted by bankers to avert blow Wall street has ever because of the great prominence & Co. and widespread public in its business integrity, even theories were subjects of criticism.

He is the feeling aroused by the was shown today when it was threats had been made that the revealed the secrets of the witness stand criminal proceeding instituted against him, he had betrayed his office as the Trust Company of the Reckoning money beyond his authority.

He had no effect upon Mr. Dyer and his assistant, Bert Norton, didn't discuss in any way the proposed trial, but the court, even to the time when a report may be expected.

About 15 witnesses were examining today. Their ignorance of the language many of them require interpretation.

WIFE INSANE, OR WRONGFULLY HELD?

Plaintiffs, Who Conceal Identity, Bring Suit to Compel Woman's Release.

HER PROPERTY IN QUESTION

Asylum Patient Is Taken From Custodian in Buggy and Placed in Private Residence.

Judge McElhinney of the St. Louis Circuit Court at Clayton Friday morning set the hearing of the habeas corpus suit by which the liberation of Mrs. Clara Taylor from St. Vincent's Insane Asylum and also from the custody of Thomas Furlong, a detective, is sought, for next Tuesday, Oct. 13.

Edward M. Taylor, husband of the woman before Judge McElhinney, heard the arguments, filed in the probate court at Clayton a petition to have his wife adjudged insane. The hearing on this case is set for Oct. 13.

Mr. Taylor did not appear at the hearing before Judge McElhinney. Answers were made, however, by Furlong and by the St. Vincent's Asylum authorities.

Furlong's answer is a formal statement that he has the woman in custody and will produce her in court when ordered. The answer made by the asylum authorities charge collusion between L. Frank Otto, the attorney who is representing the petitioners, and Furlong with collusion to perpetrate a fraud. It is held that Furlong's custody of Mrs. Taylor is a part of the alleged collusion.

Attorney Stewart, for the asylum, in his argument, said the court should not be swayed by the words of Otto, who is more eloquent and more forceful.

The court held that the answers were sufficient to sustain the petition. The woman remains in Furlong's care until the case is decided.

Mrs. Taylor was in court. To the Post-Dispatch she made a statement to the effect that she was besieged by her husband and another man, who go to the church on Sunday, and that she was locked up in a room. She was kept in custody there until Oct. 1, when, after examination by two St. Louis physicians, she was given into Furlong's custody.

She says that when she got home she had a great concern about money and checks, $100 in jewelry and $300 in St. Louis bank stocks. These, she says, she has not seen since, although she has been informed that the stocks are still to her.

Fellow Patient Is Helping Her.

Mrs. Taylor was accepted at the asylum on a certificate of insanity made out by Dr. Wm. Portier.

In the hearing at Clayton Friday, that the real instigator of the efforts to secure the release of Mrs. Taylor as a former patient of the asylum and her husband. It is said that the lady, during her stay there, became convinced that Mrs. Taylor was sane, and upon her release began to interest her husband in an effort to secure her liberation.

The writing on Mrs. Taylor's behalf, by the physician, for the petitioners, states that Mrs. Taylor was accepted for treatment and wanted her to remain with him.

TRYED THEM ALL

en Wore Three Pairs of O'Sullivan's to Make Sure.

Claude Hoffman lives in Wykoff, Minn., and is a very careful man. He personally investigated every claim of every dealer for every rubber heel before committing himself to any manufacturer. After testing the uniformity of O'Sullivan's by wearing three pairs sent the following to the O'Sullivan Rubber Co.: "Your heels are perfect. I have used three pairs of them and can say they are far superior to any other make, as I have tested nearly a dozen different kinds."

Here is comparison for you. It pays to take care in buying rubber heelings. It is quite so worthless as rotten rubber.

Send the So to O'Sullivan Rubber Co., Lowell, Mass., if dealers try to substitute. But inquire of the dealer first.

There are three things that go to make up a well-dressed man:

First—fit.

Second—fashion.

Third—finish.

And we might add fabric as fourth.

If anyone of these essentials is lacking, a man is NOT dressed.

But to be a Harlan-dressed man, a man of the moment, only means fit, fashion, finish—then must likewise be endowed with Harlan individuality of design and structure.

A Harlan label on a garment is a guarantee that Harlan quality is there.

But it is not necessary to look for the label to tell that garment is Harlan design. Take a look at the good rigs in our spacious windows.

GOV. TILLMAN IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Explains the Bitter Feeling Between Himself and Gonzales.

ORIGINATED MANY YEARS AGO

All Through His Political and Military Career, He Says, the Editor Pursued Him.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 8—James H. Gonzales made a good witness in his own behalf in his trial for the murder of N. G. Gonzales. He was asked by Mr. Croft to explain incidents to which reference has been made during the trial. After giving his explanation of the South Carolina Club incident, he was asked with regard to any messages he may have sent to Mr. Gonzales, saying that he had sent a verbal message to him by George S. Legare, telling him (Gonzales) to meet him in Georgia. He said Mr. Gonzales accepted the invitation, but he was afraid it was a trap. He said also that he did not want to violate any of the dueling laws of his state.

Answering further questions, the witness said that when he was correspondent in Washington he was not a member. Mr. Gonzales was appointed for the position of consul general to Shanghai and that he wrote his papers that Mr. Gonzales would not be appointed, but that he had words with him in a hotel lobby in Washington.

Asked as to Mr. Gonzales' attitude toward his military career, he said:

"It has always been bitter toward me since I was 21 years of age."

The question of his military career and the comments of the State was then taken up.

Mr. Tillman stated among other things that Mr. Gonzales wanted to have him court-martialed because of an incident which he related.

He then asked what had been the attitude of Mr. Gonzales toward him, prior to 1900.

"I think the man has been pretty well devoted to me since 1890," and in answer to a further question said the editors in the State had been extremely abusive to him.

He denied that he had ever been a traitor to his uncle and said he had not intentionally lied to him.

He was next asked what had been the attitude of Mr. Gonzales toward him, prior to 1900.

"I think the man has been pretty well devoted to me since 1890," and in answer to a further question said the editors in the State had been extremely abusive to him.

CHILDREN FREE ON FAIR'S LAST DAY

Harness Horses Have Their Day of Competition in Fair Grounds Amphitheater.

Harness horses will rule the day in the fair grounds amphitheater Friday afternoon. There will be competitions for the best lady, drive road horses, couple horses, road pacers, light buggy horses, matched horses and matched teams. There will also be a $20 prize for the best gentleman rider, and the familiar and popular hurdle race for mules, with $15 to the winner.

Saturday the children will be the guests of the Fair Association, the management having decided to admit the little ones free. While the juvenile attendance has been remarkably large all week, it is expected that this general invitation will serve to bring out the largest little crowd of the meeting.

As was generally expected, Mrs. McDonald, Ralph Orthwein's beautiful champion, got the blue ribbon in the saddle horse stake, defeating Harry E. Hawley, Dr. Faulmer and Ralph McDonald. Mrs. McDonald was in fine fettle, and his many fine points showed more impressively than ever. The gray Dr. Faulmer was also impressive. It was a good day for the champion's best showing to best him.

In the awards for pleasure, George Ewald of Cincinnati & Son, J. Weiser & Son, F. Deickman and J. F. Schreer of St. Louis captured most of the blue ribbons in the honors class.

Mr. Hawley and F. S. Stetson of Louisville, H. Plegge, Sadler & Deakin and A. Helfenstein of St. Louis were the winners in the open classes.

Some 150 horses of the Fair have been invited to meet Chiefs Coburn and Mills of that department of the World's Fair at the Jockey Club Friday afternoon.

Those who use "Garlands" are the best friends of "Garland" Stoves and Ranges.

"PHYLLIS" TAKES JEWELRY.

Housewives Warned Against Unscrupulous Lass in Tam O'Shanter.

Looking like an unsophisticated country girl of 16 years, a young woman with blue eyes, light hair and light fingers, dressed in a white dress, was the latest Mrs. "Phyllis" to be honored at the St. Louis Fair. Mrs. Williamson is now mourning the loss of two handsome diamond and opal rings, valued at $30, which she had just bought.

A simple, plausible story of a poor girl seeking work in a city far from home and seeking a home, was told by the young woman, who had a sympathetic heart and a kind heart.

Some time afterward she missed her rings and went to the kitchen to find the pretty girl had taken them. She found the girl was still weighing about 110 pounds and was neatly dressed in a black skirt, dark blue striped shirtwaist and a Tam O'Shanter cap.

RUSSIA HAS NOT BUDGED A SINGLE INCH

Holds on to Manchuria, Erects New Government Buildings and Proceeds as If Intending to Permanently Occupy the Territory.

FORMIDABLE WAR FLEET IS NEAR PORT ARTHUR.

Japan Makes Preparation for War and Has a Large Fleet of Fighting Vessels Off Ports of Corea—China Makes No Move.

NEW CHWANG, Manchuria, Thursday, Oct. 8.—The Russians are taking no steps to restore the government of New Chwang to the Chinese. On the contrary, they are hastening the erection of extensive government buildings and have added an additional boat to the naval force here. Reports from northern Manchuria indicate that no movement has been made toward the evacuation of that territory and Russian officials are discussing the permanent occupation of the points now held as being the settled policy.

The Russian viceroy, Admiral Alexieff, has been conducting joint naval and military maneuvers on a great scale in the vicinity of Port Arthur this week. Ninety Russian war vessels of all classes were engaged.

A Japanese squadron is maneuvering off Corea. The Russian fleet is perfectly fit. It is lying with steam up and the vessels are painted as in war time.

China is supinely waiting the trend of events, and seems disinclined to take any steps in her own behalf, apparently willing that Europe should take the initiative in checking the Czar's moves.

Russia's position in regard to Manchuria remains practically unchanged, while England, the United States and Japan, particularly the latter, lose prestige in Corea in favor of Russia, now apparently invincible in the far East. The Japanese are for the present completely following the forcible policy manifested by them in declining to countersign the Russian memorandum of last year, which proposed the recognition of Japanese predominance in Corea in return for Japan's sanction of Russia's permanent occupation of Manchuria.

BECAAME INSANE WHILE ON TRAIN

Maniac Grabbed Child and Leaped Through Window, but Mother Saved Little One.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 9.—Wesley Hedges, traveling on a Big Four train, accompanied by his wife and three children, en route from Jacksonville, Va., to La Harpe, Ill., suddenly became a maniac while on the train, and, after arriving at the station, held the police at bay for a long time.

While the train was running 50 miles an hour, Hedges, still in a wild scream, and seizing one of his children, plunged through the car window into the darkness.

The searchers soon came upon Hedges lying naked, teling a high pitch. He was picked up for dead and placed in the baggage car and brought to this city.

After arriving here he began to show signs of life. Left in the station guardhouse, Hedges again became violent and sprang out of his cage, running about the streets pursued by the entire police force.

With large stones, which he picked up, he kept his pursuers at bay. He was finally overpowerered and taken to jail.

24 HOURS RAIN FLOODS NEW YORK

Passengers From Ferries Carried Over Low Streets in Drays and Grocer Carts.

TROLLEY TRAFFIC IMPEDED

Portion of Central Railway Freight Yard Covered by Twelve Feet of Water.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—After 24 hours of pouring rain New York City and the adjacent country suffered early today from severe floods. Six and 24-100 inches of rain had fallen in the 24 hours ending at 9 a.m. today, and it was still raining hard. This was believed to be near a record rainfall. Many trolley lines and railroads were either crippled or delayed, and in New York City a conduit containing 70 telegraph wires was so flooded as to disable all the lines.

A heavy flood in the Bronx damaged the packing houses of Schwartzchild & Sulzberger, Swift & Co. and Nelson Morris & Co., and a portion of the freight yard of the New York Central was covered by 12 feet of water.

A watchman who had sought refuge on the top of a building was rescued from all the top of the city when received reports of flooded cellars, flooded sewers and impassable gutters. Many cellars along the Hudson river front were flooded and in some instances there was a loss of goods stored there. West street in front of the Post office, from the corner of Clinton and George, was flooded and passengers were carried across it in drays and grocer's wagons, temporarily pressed into service. The Hudson River, from George Street to West street, was completely tidal up by a rush of water over the tracks between Stapleton and Greenwich.

The water was two feet deep in South street, Brooklyn, ferry.

Passengers waiting on the ferries waded through the water up to their knees until the dealers in the Fulton Market were forced to close a bridge across the street. The bridge blocked the street for truck traffic, but a section of the bridge was removed and the trucks were allowed to pass.

Part of a dam across the Ramapo river near Pompton Lake, N. J., was washed away during the heavy rainstorm today, inundating the valley above, many of houses were flooded, but there were no fatalities.

The water was two feet deep in West street in front of the ferry house of the Barclay street ferry to Hoboken. For many hours the water was high and waited in the ferry house, marooned by the flood, until trucks came to the rescue. Every ferryboat was met by a half dozen trucks and the passengers were relieved of hearing the usual "Keb, keb, kerridge, keridge," as they were greeted with "Take yer across the street."

Many thousands of men and women were unable to reach their places of business today, and many were marooned by the railroads and trolley lines in Brooklyn, New Jersey, Long Island and Westchester county.

The New York branch of the Erie railroad was reported to be entirely tied up.

Hundreds of tons of dirt and stone had been washed down the tracks by the trains. The hundreds of people in the stalled trains were forced to remain where they were until the water subsided.

The fact that the streams had overflowed their banks and flooded the roads, making them almost impassable, was the chief cause of the trouble.

Both runabouts were overturned in the accident, and the horses were rendered unable by spectators that no more serious harm resulted from the collision.

LEGLESS MAN FOUND DEAD.

Henry Keple's Sudden End a Mystery

—Was an ex-Convict.

To determine the cause of the death of Henry Keple, the legless man, the coroner will hold an inquest Friday. Keple was found dead in the yard at the rear of his home, 632 South Broadway, Thursday afternoon by his brother, August Keple and Leona Everts, their housekeeper, upon their return to the house after a brief absence.

They stated that when they left Keple complained of not having been served the last time in the penitentiary for killing George Zieff in a Carondelet saloon in September, 1890. A dispute arose over a billiard ball and Keple shot Zieff. Keple's legs were cut off in a railroad accident five years ago.

KAI SER MAY TRY FOR LIPTON CUP

Sir Thomas Thinks German and English Rulers Will Support International Contest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—It has been decided that the Atlantic Yacht Club shall be custodian of the $2500 cup which Sir Thomas Lipton has offered for an ocean race from Sandy Hook lightship to the Needles in May next.

The cup will be a challenge trophy, and Sir Thomas hopes that it will become an international prize of prominence.

He has been approached by distinguished yachtsmen that it will be raced for by famous ocean-going boats.

The Atlantic Yacht Club will give three additional cups, one of the value of $200 to the first yacht finishing; one of $300 to the second yacht, and still another of $200 to go to the third.

The restrictions of the race will be few, and it will be open to all yachts.

Sir Thomas believes that the German ruler may send his Meteor over for the race and that the English yacht probably will take part in the race.

It is expected also that the King of England will be interested in the contest.

80 GIRLS FIGHT IN A CANE RUSH

Man Teacher, Who Tries to Stop Riot, Loses Many Parts of His Attire.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 8.—Eighty girls at Washburn College here indulged in a cane rush last night, which greatly shocked the faculty of that staid old Congregational institution.

Thirty-five sophomore girls attempted to rush forty-five freshman girls off the platform in the chapel. Tables and chairs were overturned and the president's chair was smacked.

Dismissed Prof. Orville Towne finally restored order at the expense of his spectacles, collar, spectacles and other parts of his attire.

The girls pulled hair and scratched, and they will bear marks of the fight for several days.

An investigation today failed to detect the leaders.

FLINTLOCK IS ALSO GOOD

Fields Are Unusually Large in Four of the Events and Picking Winners Is Next to Impossible.

BY R. D. WALSH.

ST. LOUIS, FAIR GROUNDS, Oct. 9.—With four races having fields of 14 in each the handicapper will have a difficult task in picking the winners of the Fair Grounds races this afternoon. The entries are not only numerous, but they lack class, hence the difficulty is increased. They should be played lightly today.

The feature event of the card will be the fourth race, a handicap at a mile and three-sixteenths for 3-year-olds and upward. A small but select field of five will take part in this race, and it promises to be a lively contest. The race seems to be between Taby Tosa and Dan McKenna. Taby is a 4-year-old, 110 lbs., a 3-year-old, and according to the scale of weights at the season of this year Taby Tosa is in receipt of 15 pounds from Dan McKenna. This is a most decided advantage. At even weights McKenna would probably win, but it is not reasonable to expect that he can give such a good horse as Taby 15 pounds and a beating. The weight and distance will suit Josie F. exactly, but Taby Tosa could always beat her that way regardless, and besides she does not seem to have pogged the same speed and stamina as she did last year. I therefore expect her to come in the first time, although it will not surprise me to see her wake up suddenly. These things happen with startling frequency on race-tracks. Taby Tosa holds Flintlock safe, especially on a good road, and the course at the Fair Grounds will be in excellent condition this afternoon. It may possibly be a trifle slow, but the dust will be flying and the footing will be safe. This will suit the horse better than any of the other contestants.

McKenna has a great advantage in the weights but he does not class with either Dan McKenna or Taby Tosa. He has a fair chance of being in the money, but that is the best I can do for him. It will not do for Flintlock to stay too far out of it today, and if he wins it will be by keeping up close in the early stages of the race.

Fourteen Two-Year-
Olds in First Race.

Fourteen 2-year-olds will meet in the first race and this will be a good one to witness from the grandstand without paying any attention to the betting ring.

With his light weight like Buglehorn, etc., but in a large field of this kind the star is liable to be straggling.

Home is an unsafe betting proposition, as he is a stranger here, but his record is not of a character to make him dangerous.

Thank Haven has run races good enough to make him run in the money, and Billy Jackson has a fair chance to show.

The distance is longer than those horses have run, but he is on edge. Captain Gaston looks to be the contender, and with a good boy up he is decidedly dangerous. The other candidates were most injudiciously ridden.

Taby Tosa has 12 pounds off his last race, which was beaten by Old Stone, and should be a strong favorite in the third race. Miss Crawford has weight off of 10 and will be a light weight. The other track conditions will suit her today better and still a few days ago.

Miss Crawford has been running heads off in the first five furlongs. Major Pelham will probably come on in the first race and beat them both.

Adkins will most assuredly out-

My Surprise in the Fifth.

My Surprise appears to have dropped into a quiet spot in the fifth race. He has off to his last attempt and should have little difficulty in defeating the other two.

Pettijohn has not been out for a long likes. Sid Silver has been winning and should be a good form to run in the half, and go along under double wraps

the balance of the way, won at his ride

SHERIFF CAPTURES BROTHER-IN-LAW

Sweet-Scented Note a Decoy for Man
Wanted on Embezzlement Charge.

CHARGE AGAINST HIM HERE

Prisoner Says Separation From His Wife Is Cause of Steelville Official's Pursuit.

Judge Moore will decide Friday whether Sheriff Light of Steelville or Sheriff Dickmann of St. Louis shall have possession of Frank Ruppenthal, held in the St. Louis jail on charges of embezzlement made by both officers.

Light lays claim to the prisoner on the ground that he caused his arrest through the medium of a sweet-scented note purporting to be from a woman, while Dickmann lays claim to him because of the fact that he was first to serve a warrant.

Ruppenthal is charged by the Steelville official with having taken nearly $100 from a Steelville woman, while the St. Louis warrant charges the embezzlement of more than $30 from a woman living on North Boyle avenue.

Light's brother-in-law of Ruppenthal, who is separated from his wife. He came to St. Louis in search of Ruppenthal nearly two weeks ago, and after much searching found him, residing on Carr street. Then he sought the assistance of Detective George Greely in making the arrest.

But the two officers could not catch Ruppenthal. They watched the house and his place of work, but could not catch sight of the man they wanted. Light remembered the name of a woman that Ruppenthal formerly admired, and in imitation of the sweet-scented note, he sent him a telegram, asking him to meet her at Sixth street and Franklin avenue.

Ruppenthal bit. He came to the trysting place dressed in his best. And the officers took him in.

Ruppenthal declares that family troubles are back of his arrest and the charges against him.

FIRE ALARM ROBBERS' DECOY

Wife Summoned From Home of Friends to Attend to Wounded
Husband in Indiana.

Mrs. William H. Engel, who has been visiting friends in St. Louis, has been summoned to her home in Vincennes, Indiana, because of the wounding of her husband by three robbers in the rear of his place of business in Vincennes.

Mr. Engel, who was a resident of St. Louis until three years ago, was called from his office by a stranger, who said the lighting room of his distilling plant was on fire. On his way to the office he was struck and then shot by three men.

He broke from them and ran back to his office, where he found his wife and began pursuit of the three assailants, who, he thinks, were seeking to rob his office.

The wife, however, put them to flight.

Engel was shot in the leg, the bullet making a flesh wound. He is a son of Mr. Katherine Engel of St. Louis, and a brother of Louis A. Albert H. and Charles C. Engel of this city.

IN USE SINCE 1852.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—The One
That Cures and Is Prescribed by Leading Doctors.

Whenever you have a case of cough, cold, bronchitis, croup, asthma, whooping cough, measles, hoarseness, or sore throat, family, and the doctor wishes to give the patient speedy relief and a positive cure, he prescribes the medicine that always cures, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

No other remedy has ever been discovered that so effectively cures all diseases of the throat and lungs as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

In these days of substitution the public should be very careful about substitutes and new remedies claim to have been in use for many years, but in reality they were never heard of before. Such mixtures are generally made up of harmful drugs and poisons, which do more harm than good and especially shun all preparations containing fish oil and other indigestible ingredients. These so-called cough medicines far from relieving the sick, are dangerous to experiment with.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup contains no injurious ingredients and has had over 45 years of use. There is no case of hoarseness, cough, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, quinsy, whooping cough, measles, hoarseness, or sore throat, that cannot be cured speedily by its proper use.

Thousands of letters have been received from housewives who have been cured by it. It has been a household remedy over fifty years, and there is scarcely a home or a cabin in the United States that has not a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the medicine closet. It heals the throat and lungs and renders them perfectly healthy. Many physicians prescribe Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and it is used exclusively by all the prominent hospitals of the country.

DOUBTFUL TICKET SEIZED.

Passenger Causes Arrest of "Bluff Line" Ticket Agent.

The confiscation of a railroad ticket, of the genuineness of which doubts were expressed, caused the arrest of Roscoe Bishop, chief passenger agent of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad, on a charge of petit larceny. William F. Lester, a passenger, en route to Peoria, is complaining.

Lester presented the ticket at a Union Station gate, and the gatekeeper refused to accept it. Lester then went with an attorney to the city ticket office, where Bishop confounded the ticket, saying he did not know it to be genuine. Lester is a Williams, general passenger agent of the road, complained.

When corruptionists can find no land of rest and security the popularity of the crime of bribery will wane.

Mauna Loa, the great volcano we annexed with Hawaii, is again in eruption. Mauna Loa may at any hour make an exhibition worth the price of annexation.

If the Czar suppresses race persecution in the Sultan's dominions who will do the same in the Czar's empire? It is very inconvenient, this living in glass houses.

The report that Peter of Servia is a captive and playing the game of kingship under pressure from the regicides is not improbable. A man who puts his head in a lion's mouth need not be surprised to feel the brute's teeth.

AN INCONSISTENT POLITICIAN.

The humanitarianism which distinguished Mr. Chamberlain during the early part of his career has completely evaporated, and in its place has come a frank commercialism which subordinates everything to the material well being of the empire.

Consistency, however, is not a highly prized jewel among practical politicians. Gladstone began as a Tory and drifted over to Liberalism and finally to a sort of humanitarianism which even his admirers confessed was impractical and visionary. His rival, Disraeli, was as a Radical and became a Tory. In principle, however, was neither the one nor the other. In his youth the Tory was called the stupid party. It needed a leader with intelligence enough to lead and Disraeli offered his services. It was pure business with him.

In our country Webster began a free trader and became a protectionist. Calhoun began a nationalist, but to protect the peculiar institution became a strict construction state rights man. Jefferson contradicted in practice on Monday what he preached on Sunday. He talked weak government, strictly limited, even to the point of incapacity. In practice he was the strongest of strong government men, and did not hesitate to stretch the Constitution when he thought it expedient for the country.

The interest in Mr. Chamberlain's case is heightened by the attitude of the Irish. A few years ago they called him a "traitor," "turncoat," "liar," "murderer" and employed other heinous epithets to make him appreciate the depth of his duplicity. Now, it is said, they will follow him in his new party.

Mr. Chamberlain is the most forceful as he is the most interesting character in English politics. He may be inconsistent, may count one on this side today and one on that tomorrow, but he always counts one.

A little scandal has grown out of the employment of the military as a strike breaker. The Cripple Creek disidence is scandalous in all respects.

SAVE THE DEER.

The citizens of Carter County have organized an Anti-Deer Hunting Association.

The object of this society is to "make a local law, or rules to govern deer hunting," the legislature having declined to provide suitable legislation on the subject.

The members pledge themselves not to hunt or kill deer in Carter County and "use all reasonable means to prevent any member of this association or anyone not a member from violating" the rules of the association.

In New England legislation passed several years ago not only saved the remnants of this dwindling species, but has resulted in a multiplication of deer to such an extent that the animals are becoming a destructive nuisance.

Deer can be saved in New England they can be preserved in Missouri. The Carter County movement is in the right direction. The legislature, however, has a duty to perform and should provide effective protection at the next session.

The high tariff gets all the credit for fertile soils, enormous crops, European shortage and American resources and ingenuity. A wonderful thing is the high tariff.

A GROWING REVOLT.

A Chicago judge has been called upon to decide the question whether or no a young married man must live with his mother-in-law.

Frank Jagiolo fell in love with pretty Maldina Malinowski, in Poland. The wedding took place, and then Mrs. Malinowski insisted that she be permitted to live with the young couple. Frank rebelled and fled to America. When found by the mother-in-law, who followed and sought him in all the leading American cities, Frank said that he still loved Maldina sincerely, but objected to being compelled to live with her mother. Then Mrs. Malinowski promulgated her ultimatum: "They positively cannot live together unless I can live with them." And the judge "took it under advisement."

Frank Jagiolo is hereby made an honorary member of the Nose and Grindstone Club. The revolt is growing. We have the authority of holy writ that "a man shall leave his father and mother and cleave to his wife." Surely the converse must hold good, that the mother-in-law should permit him to cleave without becoming a disintegrating factor in the new home, if she is persons non grata there. If a man is to be arrested for not kissing his wife often enough, and compelled by the courts to live with his mother-in-law, the Nose and Grindstone Club has plenty of work before it. Fling out the banner of the be-deviled benefactors! Down with the woman tyrant!

Wanted—more space at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, when the "wanted" ads don't seem to be equal to this want.

BARKEEPERS AND BOSSSES.

Six years ago Charles F. Murphy stood behind a bar in Second Avenue, New York, handed out drinks "first and in that powerful."

Today he is described as a few decades and lived in America he would have said that every barkeeper could find a boss-ship in his cocktail glass.

The barkeeper who is diligent in his calling keeps a special bottle under the counter for the man of "influence," and is always discriminating in his friendships, may become the boss before whom the mighty bow in awe and reverence.

Honor and shame from no condition rise. Mix well your drinks—in that promotion lies.

Notwithstanding the announcement in an organ that "nothing Mr. Folk can say to the President will influence the executive in any expressions in his annual message to Congress," it is hoped Mr. Roosevelt may be induced to make a strong recommendation to make bribery an extraditable offense by treaty.

THE NEW GERMAN REICHSTAG.

Although the German Emperor hates the Social Democrats with a corrosive hate, he will find them very useful in the new Reichstag in one line of policy at least.

One of his pet projects is the renewal of commercial treaties which expire next December. These treaties are with Russia, Austria, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Italy. The Social Democrats are just as eager for reciprocal trade relations as the Emperor and unless they take leave of their senses they will vote for the continuance of the policy.

Moreover, trade with America, which has been hampered and belittled by the dog-in-the-manger attitude of the Agrarians, is now to get more favor. The Agrarian party is obliterated and the other groups are favorable to importations from the United States.

The German workmen want cheaper food, which they know they can get in America. They know that while they can't buy American meat the German navy depends upon it entirely and they very reasonably ask why workmen shouldn't have cheap food if soldiers are fed with it.

The German workmen also want cheap manufactured articles. An enterprising American firm opened retail shop stores in Berlin, Hamburg and Frankfort, two or three years ago, and the workmen like the shoes and the prices. They want a liberal policy, so that other manufactures may be obtained on similar terms.

The manufacturers are said to be not averse to American trade provided they are allowed to sell in the United States on terms equally liberal. And since their wares, in many respects, do not compete with our products it is difficult to perceive how our manufacturers can object to "goods made in Germany."

If the Emperor and the Social Democrats get together on this item of policy Germany will make progress and the whole world will share in the benefit. It is feared, however, that they will quarrel over the army estimate, which the Social Democrats hate. However that may be, the opportunity for progress is presented and can be seized and turned to account by the exercise of moderation and good sense.

Mr. Cannon should have invited the provincials of Wall street to come West and see the country. There is a vast region west of the Alleghenies which is the foundation of legitimate prosperity, but is too much matter of mere rumor and report to many people in the Wall street district. It would do them good to learn a little about the West.

The Czar's oldest daughter, 8 years of age, is said to have so imperious a will that she may some day occupy the Russian throne as a feminine czar. There are numbers of little American girls of that age who also have imperious wills, but they will not have thrones. They will get married when they shall have grown older.

President Ingalls of the Big Four is as optimistic as Uncle Tom. All the soda water, he thinks, has been squeezed out of stocks, and there is nothing but prosperity before us. The railroads are certainly getting a great deal of money and are unable to carry all the freight that is offered when they shall have grown older.

President Ingalls of the Big Four is as optimistic as Uncle Tom. All the soda water, he thinks, has been squeezed out of stocks, and there is nothing but prosperity before us. The railroads are certainly getting a great deal of money and are unable to carry all the freight that is offered when they shall have grown older.

Uncle Sam has fallen down in his figures on Missouri zinc. Who more than our uncle should know that Missouri produces 80 per cent of all the spelter, or refined zinc, of the United States?

POST-DISPATCH SNAP-SHOTS.

Barber rates will have to be posted on all incoming trains. A Pueblo doctor has killed a policeman. The crime is grave because the bobby was not his patient.

At one time it looked as if the international blacksmiths at the Fair would have to go at one another "hammer and tongs."

A watch stopped a bullet and saved the life of a resident of St. Louis. How very close can be time and eternity.

To their dying day the Massachusetts man and the Kentucky man will remember what it cost them to die in St. Louis.

The tendency of Progress. Langley's airship to get into water suggests that he might have been a successful builder of yachts or steamers.

That noble red man, Tail Feathers Coming, may be coming to the World's Fair. Why should Uncle Sam try to force a different name upon him?

Chief of staff sounds much less than lieutenant-general or commander-general. A chief of staff might be mistaken for a boss at the World's Fair buildings.

We must now expect packed streets, packed street cars and packed hotels. A great stock of good nature will be necessary in St. Louis until the last days of 1904.

C. R. S.—See transit company or Polar Wave Ice Co. L. Out Crove Coal lake.

There has been a King Hotu parade within six years—but not recall the date.

J. A. L.—Walker's (not Warner's) American Law is the book you want. That and Fluke's histories would start you.

J. and D. G.—We have not a list of the pure food states. Ohio has no consecutive state pure food law.

M. L. R.—You are right. It was the Veiled Prophet's twenty-sixth appearance—not his twenty-sixth anniversary this year.

ARGUMENT.—In case of the death of President Roosevelt before his term expires, Secretary Hay would become President.

SUBSCRIBER.—The Veiled Prophet's procession in 1902 did not meet at Jefferson Avenue. The Veiled Prophet's procession in 1902 did not meet at Jefferson Avenue. We have not a list for the list of Queens for 26 years (See fifth column under heading).

PALE FACE.—Fessall cream for pimples: Lanolin 5 grammes, sweet almond oil 6 grammes, sulphur precipitate 5 grammes, oxalic acid 1/2 gram, extra violet 10 drops. Apply a few drops of the cream to the pimples; wait until the pimples are cured before using the face brush.

All Senators Look Alike to Payne.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

The real beauty of the system of patronage distribution is that an Allee, who is simply Allee's man, has a standing in Washington equal to that of any man in the House. As "adviser" there is no possible preference in Mr. Allee's favor.

The postmaster-general says so. "Mr. Allee is a senator of the United States, just as much as Senator Hearst or Senator Morgan is a senator of the United States."

THE NEWEST BOOKS

EDGAR RICE BEACH,
Author of "Joshua Humble."

A TALE OF OLD ST. LOUIS.

Mr. Edgar Rice Beach, author of the St. Louis newspaperman, still an important position on the Globe-Democrat staff, has found time to write a novel, entitled "Joshua Humble; a Tale of Old St. Louis," which is published this week by Edward R. Eddins & Co., a local publishing house.

The story is one that will be read with interest on account of its somewhat unusual flavor. It is quaintly old-fashioned and frankly melodramatic. It has a plot so complicated and full of mystery and pulse-quickening surprises as to indicate its foundation on a Wilkie Collins model. In the names of its characters and in the humor and pathos of some of their doings, there is a hint of Dickens as a master studied by Mr. Beach. Both in construction and characterization the author has done good work.

It is apparent that the time of Mr. Beach's story is that of a generation ago, when Garrison avenue was a fashionable residence street. Joshua Humble, a wealthy financier and dealer in stocks and bonds, lived on Garrison avenue when his fortunes were at the flood. But we come upon him at their ebb-tide, a broken and weary man, illing a clerical position in the office of Sol Miserleigh, to whose machinations, as it afterwards develops, he owed his ruin.

This Sol Miserleigh is such a thoroughly-paced villain as has not been dared by novelists for at least a quarter of a century. Dickens' sneaky Uriah Heep and monstrous Quilp are his plain prototypes. Mr. Beach's novel is ever dramaticized—and the reader may count on being blessed in a way to delight the soul of his creator. His old Jezebel of a mother is, if anything, as a matter of fact, rarely if ever stays with people.

Robert Hichens, the author of "Felix," is a man of many sides. A level-headed man of the world, he yet takes a keen interest in spiritualism, hypnotism, clairvoyance, palmistry, in short the "Black Art" generally. He is a skeptic, but admits that things have been foretold about him which have come true. On one occasion he "dropped in" on a clairvoyant who, to the best of his belief, knew absolutely nothing about him. Among other things he was told that he would shortly go to a foreign castle, which the seer described in some detail. Mr. Hichens went away greatly interested, but, as it turned out, the prophecy as to the practical questions predicted by the sudden prosperity of the Post will be published this autumn by A. S. Barnes & Co.

reliably tell him how to find it—always sending him in an exactly opposite direction to that which he wishes to follow.

But two days in the company of even with the stranger. The knowledge of the city that he gains in that brief space is wonderful. On the third day he can take his city host by the hand and lead him to sights the very existence of which the urbanite had not suspected. And his acquaintanceship with city characters is an other thing to cause astonishment.

Every now and then he steers his city cousin into company wherein he is greeted as a long-lost brother, and called by his first name. He also deals in Christian nomenclature, and is the envy of the city men.

If it were not for these annual visits of the stranger, the average St. Louis would never be acquainted with his own town.

The newest book of fairy tales, "Prince Silver Wings," will be presented next season as a summer attraction at one of the large Chicago houses. The suggestion of the dramatic possibilities of the book came first from Mr. Harry J. Powers, manager of the Powers Theater, Chicago, who stated to Mrs. Harrison that in his opinion the opportunity for making "Prince Silver Wings" a distinctively original extravaganza was most exceptional one. Stimulated by this, Mrs. Harrison laid the plans for before her confidantes, who very promptly concurred in Mr. Powers' suggestion and offered to make the necessary arrangements for carrying it out.

It is now definitely announced that Mrs. Carter Harrison's new book of fairy tales, "Prince Silver Wings," will be dramatized and will be presented next season as a summer attraction at one of the large Chicago houses. The suggestion of the dramatic possibilities of the book came first from Mr. Harry J. Powers, manager of the Powers Theater, Chicago, who stated to Mrs. Harrison that in his opinion the opportunity for making "Prince Silver Wings" a distinctively original extravaganza was most exceptional one. Stimulated by this, Mrs. Harrison laid the plans for before her confidantes, who very promptly concurred in Mr. Powers' suggestion and offered to make the necessary arrangements for carrying it out.

Kate Douglas Wiggin's new book, "Half-a-Dozen Housekeepers; a Story for Girls in Half-a-Dozen Chapters," will be brought out early in the fall by Henry Altemus Co. Six school girls "descend" upon a Maine village at the invitation of one of their mothers, who has borrowed the family home for two weeks from an indulgent father, then touring the South with the remainder of his family; and what those captivating damsels found to do in that memorable fortnight is told with a fascination that is remorseless.

It takes six years for grass to grow where sheep have pulled it up and trampled it.

Agriculture has not yet become one of the largest industries of British Columbia, but the amount of land cultivated is increasing each year, and the demand for agricultural implements is constantly growing larger.

The conflict is that of right against wrong and it is not too fully telling the plot of "Joshua Humble" to say that Mr. Beach manifests a healthily optimistic confidence in the unfailing ultimate triumph of the right. He brings this about in his story with much dramatic interest and his concluding chapter is marked by a sense of incident which serves to intensify until the last an interest that had been strongly sustained from the beginning. A pretty love story, that of Paul Dyke and Valentina, the long-lost daughter of the mad Aurelia, supplies the romantic element. As for the arch-villain, Sol Miserleigh, and his chief confederate, Jacob Blum, the fate which finally overtakes them is singularly dramatic and unmistakably retributive.

Mr. Charles Major's new story is as different as possible from his former books. Life and love among the pioneers of Indiana during the thirties form the theme of "A Forest Hearth," which is, in brief, a vigorous story of the men and women and children who developed that particular portion of the wilderness into one of our most fertile and productive states. Dick Whittington, the boy who comes through queer adventures in the wilderness and in Indianapolis, and their friend Billy Little helps them out of many scrapes. So vivid a picture of the pioneers of the Middle West has never before been painted.

Mr. Alfred Henry Lewis, whose intimate knowledge of inner political life in New York qualified him peculiarly for revelations of the mysteries of politics, has written a novel entitled "The Boss," which has for its sub-title, "How He Came to Rule New York." This story which offers opportunity for disclosures of the dramatic and unpredictable, and for answers to the practical questions prompted by the sudden prosperity of the Post, will be published this autumn by A. S. Barnes & Co.

There are many peculiar qualities pertaining to the stranger. When he is lost he will, with unerring perspicuity, select the only other stranger on the block as the best person to direct him on his way, and the other stranger, who is flattered, and doesn't wish to confess ignorance, will

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF DOINGS IN MARKET AND FINANCIAL WORLD

SENTIMENT IS MIXED ON MARKET CONDITIONS

The Earlier Trading Was Weak and Some New Low Records Were Established, but a Rally Lifted Prices.

The opening showed considerable weakness, particularly in the industrial stocks.

A period of dullness followed the opening activity, with standard railroad stocks rather stronger.

The disclosures in the Shipbuilding case continue to be a considerable factor in the market.

Time money is more plentiful and rates are said to be lower.

New low records were established in Steel and Copper.

Sentiment is considerably mixed as to the general market conditions.

A number of stocks are short in the loan crowd, and the short interests were considerable buyers this afternoon.

The close was fairly active and not far from the high point of the day.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The opening this morning was fairly active with prices lower all along the line. London was much lower and advices from there say that the shipbuilding disclosures are creating some very severe comment in that market. The foreign market is about 36,000 shares off this morning.

The report of the Meteorite, giving the cause of the explosion of the amount necessary to pay the 7 per cent on guaranteed stock was generally looked on as a good sign, but the foreign market officers contend that the torn up condition of the streets during the past year, it is a remarkably good snowing.

The scandals in the Shipbuilding case are still important factors in the group. So far as the market has been shown up the way not known in inside circles here for some time, but now that it is a matter of public knowledge, one knows what next will be turned up.

Money on time and well arranged collateral and short stocks are going at 8 per cent and bankers say that they expect to have their funds in such shape that the rate will not go above that figure this year.

The trading in the first half hour dragged as soon as the early orders were filled. Prices then began to move with a slight tendency to harden at the close of the period. Steel common was again to the front with another record, the price touching 140, while the preferred was off 61%.

The market dragged considerably during the afternoon, some little recovering toward noon. The Steel stocks continued about stationary, with little news to affect.

Butter, Eggs and Poultry.

DAVITT ON THE JEWS IN RUSSIA

They Are Greater Menace to Autocracy Than Antisemitism to Israelites, He Says.

WRITES BOOK ABOUT HIS TRIP

Says Russia Can Do Much for This Downtrodden People by Abolishing Blood Atonement Legend.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Fresh from a visit to the great centers of Jewish population in Russia, Michael Davitt has written his estimate of the conditions and future of those people in a volume entitled "Russia the Poor," which will be issued tomorrow from the presses of S. Barnes & Co.

"The Jews, as he is ruled and oppressed by Russian officials, is a far greater danger to Russian autocracy than anti-Semitism is to the Israelites of the Pale," declares Mr. Davitt in his preface to his work.

"The danger," he continues, "was candidly avowed by all the representatives Russians from whom I solicited light and information." Mr. Davitt further cautions, "ahead because of unnatural economic and social conditions."

"The facts of the economic and social conditions within the pale of settlement," he writes, "are so objective that the warning they give of a coming catastrophe cannot be ignored."

"It would be like leaving an epidemic of smallpox to cure itself by neglect."

"This condition of things is fully explained and expressed by the term unnatural. It is analogous to a situation which would result from a federal law spelling every European-born artisan & laborer within the whole United States reside inside of Pennsylvania and to beidden to seek employment outside the Arnold Shanklin, Honorary Fair Commissioner, Tells of Spirit Fire.

Arnold Shanklin, an honorary commissary to Mexico for the World's Fair, has returned from a trip to that country during which he called upon President Diaz and other prominent Mexican officials in the interest of the Exposition.

Mr. Shanklin says that Mr. Nuncio, the Mexican minister to the United States, this month and that the entire commission will reach this city in March.

Mr. Shanklin has lived in Mexico the past year and speaks Spanish fluently. He was able to interview President Diaz without the aid of an interpreter. Mr. Shanklin is a native of Carrollton, Tex., and is the young man who has been called the "Mexican" in the Junior Board of Trade.

Mr. Shanklin says that the officials and the Mexican people generally are taking an interest in the Fair. He has just returned to Mexico and will return to the Fair in a few days.
